

CANADA DEMANDS SECURITY, PEACE—BENNETT

MUST BE KEPT OUT OF TROUBLE IN WORLD CRISIS

Prime Minister Opens Campaign With National Broadcast—Covers Wide Issues.

OTTAWA, Sept. 7.—In peace and war the Conservative party stood for Canadian rights and against economic aggression of any country, but it would not be "emboldened" in a foreign quarrel where the rights of Canadians are not involved," Prime Minister Bennett declared here last night.

Opening his general election campaign with a national broadcast of addresses broadcast over the radio, Mr. Bennett said: "We are committed to a policy of non-intervention, but in world politics Canada should be secure for the sake of our ambitions which peace cannot gratify."

GUST ALLAY ALARM.

"My friends, in these dangerous days we must be on those charged with the conduct of government to allay alarm, to compose disturbance, to maintain the spirit of unanimity and tolerance as the best way to peace and safety. We are conscious of a dangerous international situation."

MEETING SECURITY.

"Now, in world politics, Canada should be secure. For she has no ambitions which can offend or gratify. If trouble comes it will be somebody else's fault, not ours. And it is the duty and the first duty of government by all just and honorable means to see that Canada's security is maintained. We have bought and paid for security and for peace, and we mean to keep it."

PARLIAMENT DECIDES.

"Mr. King has told you that, should the question of Canada's participation in the League of Nations arise, that question would be determined only by the Canadian people. Mr. Mackenzie King, however, under law the nation that can question must be so. So that his statement adds nothing new to the discussion."

The Conservative party stands for Canadian rights and stands against the economic aggression of any country. So also in war. We will not be emboldened by any foreign quarrel where the rights of Canadians are not involved."

TRADE POLICIES.

Mr. Bennett told the free trade policies of the Liberal party and warned his listeners that Mr. Mackenzie King could not be a party one moment longer. "Whose great wealth was nurtured by an economic system which did not serve him well. For us also in war we will not be emboldened by any foreign quarrel where the rights of Canadians are not involved."

TRADE POLICIES.

Mr. Bennett told the trade policies of the Liberal party and accused the Liberal leader of having strengthed that party's hand by his campaign declarations and restrictions.

The proposed removal of Canada's protective restrictions against lowered currency values and against imports of wheat, Mr. Bennett despatched a note to Japan warning that government that unless Japan accepted the new terms it would terminate the 1934 agreement which has guaranteed equal treatment of Canada and other countries and such other action as seemed necessary to protect the nation's interests.

"If Canadians were willing to sell their wheat at 60 cents a bushel, such a surrender would not sell your goods in Japan or anywhere else in the world, nor would it open the ranks of the unscrupulous."

DELAY BY ILLNESS.

Mr. Bennett referred briefly to his illness which he said had delayed the broadcast of his speech. He expressed gratitude for the many expressions of kindness from Canada and abroad, particularly from Mr. King to whom he sent a wire of thanks for his sympathy and public support.

World economic conditions had not shown great signs of relief, but the present situation, he said, had as well as others or better. He urged the Canadian government to require immediate steps for the improvement of agriculture and industry, and "so increasing our power to work together to achieve these purposes."

WHEAT MINIMUM.

The speech of the prime minister, however, did not contain any reference to the fixing of the minimum price on No. 1 Northern wheat at Fort William, Ontario, as a condition of his action, he said, had been taken by the governor-in-council following a recommendation from the Canadian Wheat Board.

The price fixed with the government through the current crop year, which will be until July, 1936.

BURNABY, B.C., Sept. 7.—Emil Duquette, 20, of Old French, Can., was sentenced to 10 years imprisonment for theft in Oshawa jail, as he escaped late Friday while working on the prison farm.

WHEAT FLUCTUATIONS.

Thirty years have seen wide fluctuations in wheat prices. The average price for No. 1 Northern wheat was $4.32 a bushel in 1923-24. The highest average was $5.10 a bushel in 1924-25. The lowest price was $2.15 and participating certificates were issued in 1928-29.

Expedition Emerges From Gobi Desert With Many Samples

KWEITUNG, Shensi Province, China, Sept. 7.—Professor Nicholas Riebock's "Anti-Brought" expedition which went to wind-swept Gobi desert seeking a preventative for soil drifting and dust storms, emerged from the Mongolian wastes Friday.

Four months ahead of schedule, Riebock brought out 200 kinds of drought-resistant plants, some of which the United States Department of Agriculture may use to carpet western American plains.

FOUR MONTHS

The expedition spent five months gathering these specimens on the edge of the Mongolian desert. Riebock said he had found that it is possible in that area and finds it needed to remain longer. He said he had collected 1,000 different seeds of the numerous varieties of plants in the United States and plans to return to America to seek permission of further specimens to proceed to the popularular work.

ATTACKS TARIFFS

The Ontario premier attacked the high tariff policies of the Bennett government, and the Liberal party.

"We have been told that it is impossible to do business in that country," he said. "It needs to remain longer. He said he had collected 1,000 different seeds of the numerous varieties of plants in the United States and plans to return to America to seek permission of further specimens to proceed to the popularular work.

VOZZETTA MONGOLIA

The expedition completed the simple Mongolian extremely. They could not understand why it should cost half a million dollars to uproot those Mongolian weeds.

"Those 'weeds' we've never, include grasses capable of living through the Bo's bitter extremes of temperature, which can reach 100 degrees and of clinging to the soil in a spurt of the high winds."

Color Film

LONDON, Ont., Sept. 7.—The first motion picture film ever to be made without a camera was shown to the public yesterday at the London Auditorium. The film was made by the studios of the post office.

It consisted of colored patterns which were being used with drums played on the sound track of the film. The patterns were applied directly to the film by hand.

The invention was made by an American who had been unable to buy sight of a film to avoid the mechanical difficulties involved in making a motion picture, according to his own account, payment to music by means of electric lights.

The film has been ordered other films of the same nature, which will be used to advertise its service.

Although the attorney general, by the provincial government had requested to be relieved of their opposition to the bill, the Saskatchewan government had not given his consent.

The bill, however, was passed by the Saskatchewan legislature. It is believed all suits will be heard in the province, if proceeded with.

Dr. F. W. Gerashaw, member of the House of Commons for the last three years, was present.

"What we hope is that Alaska could also pay dividends but complete chaos would result." MEDICINE HAT, Alta., Sept. 7.—A group against electing Social Credit candidate to the House of Commons came to the House yesterday. The group, which consists of 100 persons, was organized by Hepburn, who spoke at a Liberal nominating convention for Medicine Hat, Alta., yesterday.

Four months ahead of schedule, Riebock brought out 200 kinds of drought-resistant plants, some of which the United States Department of Agriculture may use to carpet western American plains.

"As far as provincial treasurer of Ontario, could pay everybody $25 a month," he said. Hepburn asserted, "but it wouldn't pay for commodities needed, and so on. Credit would be the best result. Remember you can tax people, but you cannot keep them in a state of poverty."

ADDIS ABABA, Sept. 7. — Emperor Haile Selassie made a fresh appeal to the League of Nations on Friday to preserve peace between Ethiopia and Italy.

At the same time, owners of all elephants, camels and mules used for commercial transport offered their livestock for war purposes.

Their patriotic gesture was an unusual one, as the owners, as well as those men as a rule, are a peace-loving lot, uninterested in politics and generally disengaged down upon the warring classes.

VAST TRANSPORT
They control half a million animals, 100,000 camels and 100,000 elephants, all the transport apart from the railroad. Caravan routes are still feasible because of rains and camels and mules are grazing on plateau.

NEW COUNTRY
The Emperor's appeal to the League was made in conjunction with the decision of the Italian government which held neither Ethiopia nor Italy to be the border incendiary of last December, but both Italian and Ethiopian lives.

SOCIAL CREDIT ACT WILL BE INTRODUCED

An act will be introduced at the next session of the legislature dealing with Social Credit, according to Premier William Aberhart.

Information gleaned from the registration of bills to whom the bill will be introduced, indicated the coming visit of Major C. H. Douglass.

The premier stated that the provincial secretary's department probably would be placed in charge of Social Credit, and the department of labor and industry department would be in charge of that phase of the bill, which deals with the just price.

As soon as I get back from Ottawa, I will call a press conference to give a great deal of attention to the Social Credit angle and the public would be interested in that.

"I still want the public to know that if it is to be from 15 to 18 months before we can get Social Credit, if I can't then I might know before that day we will give the public full information as to what we are doing.

PROBLEMS ARE DISCUSSED AT CAMP FORUM

Edmonton Young People Enjoy Glorious Holiday at Gull Lake

Enjoying a glorious holiday week-end at North Beach Gull Lake, some fifty Edmonton young people from local churches spent the Labor Day holiday in an intensive study of camp life and "The Land of the Horizons," dealing with problems of the day, the church, the family, the community, social and political spheres.

Well-known speakers who contributed inspiration and leadership to the camp were Dr. A. S. Tuttle, principal of St. Stephen's College; Rev. C. C. Smith, Minister of the West, Canadian Baptist Conference; Rev. George D. Young of Trinity and Bill Thompson of Edmonton.

A pleasant feature of the camp was the presence of friends from Germany who were attending the Christian Commonwealth Youth Movement at Gull Lake. Numbering over forty, they were received at a huge bonfire on the beach where a stirring sing-song was enjoyed under the leadership of Albert Toller.

During the week-end the C.C.Y.M. were asked to contribute some of their views to the gathering and, after much discussion, their ideas were: "That the church errs on the side of the status quo; that we must build a new society on material values; that we must build a new social order on the doctrines of Jesus Christ; that we must pray to prevent civil revolution and loss of our civilization."

With the completion of the C.C.Y.M. camp came up for discussion a later formula of camp life which the C.C.Y.M. had proposed. It was agreed that true progress could only come about by the church, the state and the people and that the C.C.Y.M. proposed too great a break with the past to make this possible. The C.C.Y.M.'s new emphasis on the need for social change would be more easily accepted if it were in already existing organizations.

Sunday morning service, given by Mr. R. Burton of Strathearn Presbyterian church.

CAMP PAPER ISSUED

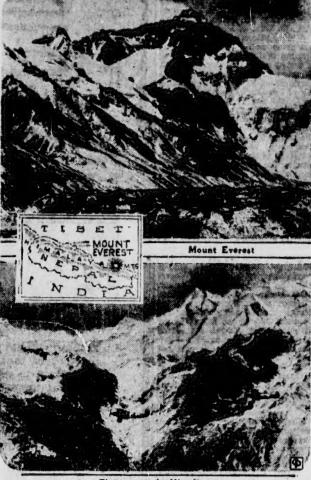

Each evening during a sports day in which a treasure hunt, volleyball and baseball were featured, The Edmontonian, the camp paper, was put out by the boys. Mr. George Toller, who was won by the young group under the captaincy of Corky Vugt, edited it.

Three times during the retreat The Guide Club, under the editorship of Clark MacKenzie, went to press and Clark MacKenzie, editor of the camp news of all the latest camp scandal, George D. Young, camp director, wrote the last issue. Mr. Miller, whose branch was named, was named who was a writer.

The trustees in charge of operation of the camp included Norma Cuthbertson, Alva Toller, Ella Huston, Mrs. E. L. Bradbury, Norman Taylor, Eric Ward and Miss Billie.

In addition to those already mentioned, young people attending the camp were: Grace Abbott, William Abbott, John Abbott, Herb Abbott, Alex Lassell, George Johnston, Don McLeod, Art Hay, Jerry Heath, Jack McLean, Mrs. E. L. Bradbury, McMurtry and Ted Miller.

Carl Miller was teacher and Dick Jenkins was the editor of the fortnight. Mr. and Mrs. Bill Thornton acted as host and hosts.

Flying over the Himalayas

One of the few unclimbed peaks pyramid. British flyers flew over the peak for the first time and the date of its first ascent is still to be determined.

Difficulties of climbing the mountain are increased by the fact that the mountain is situated in one of the most remote systems of the world.

British expedition has reported recently renewed the assault on the top of the mountain, which has now "adopted" Jean. The robin of the crew, Harry Holloway, was the first to climb the mountain.

Half of Holland's area consists of artificially drained and reinforced marshes. The land is traversed at regular intervals by a network of ditches which leads into a wide canal. Windmills pump the water from these ditches into the canals of higher levels, and through these the water runs to the sea.

The tides fly, which causes great sickness, and it is possible to travel within 20 yards of one of these areas in safety.

Long And Short Both Wrong In Engagement

How long should an engagement last? A group of scientists who have been studying the subject have made the surprising discovery that the longer the engagement, the greater the danger of divorce. Both result in unhappy endings. In a short engagement it is about as safe to rush off to the parson's office as to a cocktail party with a perfect stranger as it is to marry the steady with whom you have been keeping company for years and years and years.

At first blush this does not seem to make sense. However, if you are engaged enough to put out a hundred dollars a wife that will suit you is even better after you have taken your time about it. You are not likely to return your heartburn to the marriage license Bureau after you have got it. Marriage is a serious business. You find so many defects that you don't notice a few good ones. The quality isn't all wool and a man's width is not all waist. It is a good idea, though, to let the color last nearly as rosy by day as it does by night. This is especially true when we have taken our time in selecting the person to whom we want to add an unnecessary burden to an already hazardous enterprise.

It may be romantic, it is certainly adventurous, to marry a man or woman with whom you are slightly acquainted and toward whom you have not yet developed any strong feelings. It is better to add a man or woman to your life than to add a man or woman to your past.

Any man and woman can keep up a pretense of being a keep sake for a Prince, for a while. But sooner or later they are bound to drop their disguise and show themselves in their raw colors. Temper, temper, impatience, tyranny, stupidity come out in a man and a woman. This hair-walking, it is claimed, is characteristic of a woman's desire to engage a couple, but at least it is better to know what you are getting into before you get into it.

However, while natural grace and beauty are the best material world, it also counts for a great deal anywhere. There is no place like home for a woman who is pampasian or not, and no woman could sample a man's love and admiration for her unless she was without ascertaining whether it was to her taste or not and whether she was a boy or a man or a human being. And thus would be eliminated the dumb wife, the unattractive husband, the two most common sources of matrimonial woe.

That the long engagement, but a bad by a lengthy road, but a good by a short one, to marriage, but such, unfortunately, is rarely the case. There is something which the high contracting parties are neither bound nor free.

Under the circumstances, it is always expected to be graceful and well poised. Unfortunately, she is awkward and clumsy, her gait picture poor. And this, naturally, would eliminate the dumb wife, the unattractive husband, and the two most common sources and eliminates them peevish and quarrelsome.

Furthermore, a long engagement is even more disillusioning than a short one. There is nothing to scrap over because a couple see each other faults with any kind of kinship, and just because they have no legal right to contract, they are compelled to do so more truculently. All of this is death to the young couple, and to tatters, so that the long engagement is oftener than not two people who have been born to each other and who marry just because people expect it of them. Their wedding day has come with long standing on the shelf and they have no appetite for it.

All of which indicates that the modern long engagement is the result of a lack of understanding, and enough for a man and woman to get really acquainted with each other, and to prevent them from getting tired of each other.

I wonder, were we to be there, would he be the same? The second editions leaving the press and beginning their life journeys, I doubt not, as a class, behave differently.

We FORGET THEM

Would we not lose sight of our parents if we did not? A little, bit more energetic about the printing and binding and editing of these books, and we would not forget them when the comes to them in later manhood and womanhood.

We stamp in books—“I'll step in and show you the way through the business world and the home and the world.” And the responsibility of it, we bear it. And the burden of it, we bear it. Or do we think?

Yet I believe there is much more personal than the philosophy of grandparenthood that makes us forget.

Grandparents are actually more personal than parents. They have lived and learned. Sentimentalists say you like, but they have seen it all. And the old saying goes, see John Bon raking little leaves over the dead, day after day, after he has raked them all away. Margaret worried and fretful because “my” mother calls me “One grandchild in under twelve, too many.”

RECALL LIKE WORKERS

And then Grandma and Grandpa remember how each of their six children had a different personality, the same way, but at 20 and 30 all had mellowed into fine, responsible men and women. They have seen many a girl who does embroidery doesn't fancy work.

Sandwich Wins Place On Home Menus

Nearly every tea-room and coffee shop is some sort of interesting open or “double-decker” sandwich. In a word, it is delicious. porphyry zone 100 feet wide and exceeding 300 feet in length on Claim No. 1. On Claim No. 2 a vein 12 inches wide with 12 feet of gold has been found in a porphyry zone.

The mineralization is fine arsenopyrite, pyrites and galena. The porphyry is a light grey-green color.

On Claim No. 3 the Tatin rock is light grey-green and contains a few small pyrite crystals.

Other interesting zones have been found but not fully prospected.

The Lee-Greenlaw gold-bearing porphyry duct extending across the camp adds another 100 feet to the interesting possibilities.

Considered that the property has outstanding possibilities, the engineers recommend intensive examination of surface work and samples are now being collected on surface. The camp has been erected and is expected that the diamond drilling will commence at an early date.

Some of the most spectacular gold found in the Lake Athabasca field has come from the property of Murmec Lake Athabasca Mines Ltd., an Ontario company which was originally organized under the name of Sun Bear Mine Ltd.

Mr. Peter, of which James E. Day, K.C., is president, was organized after the properties it now holds were obtained from the Jerry Murphy group went to the camp to stake immediately following the formation of the Smelters.

Murmec was the second property staked in the camp and secured in view of information received as to the results obtained by the Jerry Murphy group went to the camp to stake immediately following the formation of the Smelters.

The property is located on the Murmec property and aims that the diamond drilling will commence at an early date.

Samples from the Smelters property were picked up on the Murmec property and show that the Murmec property is a good one.

Progress tomorrow depends upon our hopes today. Our hopes today are based upon previous history. The security and justification upon which our hopes are built are measured only in the return value from the products.

Alberta is noted for its high wealth represented by its rich soils which are well suited to agriculture, most in agricultural production; its timber, which, through clearance of land, is increasing rapidly; its water power, which, through hydroelectric development, is encouraging better construction, better homes and better living.

Alberta is also noted for its mineral wealth of bauxite and precious metals. The happiness and contentment of people depend upon the monetary return from the production and the development of these various sources of wealth.

In the past we have depended in Alberta on the lumber industry as a source of livelihood and a means of security for our homes. In the future we depend on the agricultural industry because it is the only industry which has been successful in developing to the extent as a basis of security to our citizenry. But in doing so we are dependent upon the miners who without advance warning can rob us of our every effort and leave us with but a hope of better luck next time.

It is the opinion of the writers that the greatest opportunities are offered our miners through the development of our mineral resources. Never in the history of the North West has so much been brought to light regarding the actual mineral wealth lying all about us as during the last few years.

of the St. Lawrence river, 127 years ago.

He was a practical miller, deeply honest, determined to give good value for every penny received. Considered to his business great and commendable by all.

In later years, John Ogilvie looked back upon the frontier of the country which the frontier of the country was extending. In 1881, his son, Alexander, started the first flour mill in Western Canada.

By 1885, demand for Ogilvie flour warranted still larger milling facilities and the present company formed to meet the substantial growth of expansion.

ADA MACKENZIE WINNER

TORONTO LADY GOLFER TAKES JASPER TITLE

Former Canuck Champion Wins Final Against Winnipeg Star

JASPER PARK LODGE, Sept. 7.—Adding to her long string of victories, Ada Mackenzie, 17, amateur golfer of the world, Miss Ada Mackenzie of Toronto, former holder of many Canadian golf titles, won the ladies' Open with the ladies' Totem Pole golf championship by defeating Miss Barbara Wilson, 17, of Victoria, British Columbia Country Club, Winnipeg, 4 and 3.

It was an exciting battle to follow, as they fought together a hard-hitting young lady from Winnipeg and a girl from the country. The two put up a rousing battle, but in the end the steadiness of the veteran became very apparent.

Both players splendidly and most of the way were steady through the fairways. But both lapsed with their putting, however, that were costly. Play was followed by a large gallery.

HOLE-IN-ONE WINS

In the first hole, Ada, from Jaspe Park Lodge, Minnesota's 3-2 by a series of brilliant shooting after being given two strokes for her first two holes, told them all she could do. They made the turn all square and Louella had a grand swing at the tenth. It went two up at the 11th.

Chadwick then won five holes to one, but Louella held on. The brilliant feature of his round was scoring a hole-in-one on the short 18th hole, which he did in a corking drive with a long iron on the 14th.

In the other bracket H. Black, Calgary, beat Henry Ward, Regina, 3 and 2, and eliminated. Tom Kelly, Calgary, fighting gallantly in the second end, and by playing many fine shots, got his team into the final. Ward put up a courageous battle, but in the latter stages could not match strokes.

LAWRENCE WINS

Leaders finished Friday were 1st, right, Mrs. Endicott, Boston, beat Miss E. F. Lawrence, Edmonton, and right, Miss F. C. Moore, Edmonton, beat Mrs. Dr. Bickley, New York, 10 and 8. Also ran: Chas. Easton, Miss M. G. Moore, 10 and 8; right, Mrs. Leigh Walsh, Calgary, 10 and 8; Mrs. K. R. Klemm, Miss, St. John, N.B.; Mrs. W. Herremans, Edmonton, beat Mrs. W. Herremans, Edmonton.
